

Corporate Criminal Offence Policy

1.0 Introduction

For the purposes of this policy, J.W. Turner Limited is committed to conducting its business in full compliance with all applicable laws. This commitment includes adhering to those requirements of Part 3 of the Criminal Finances Act 2017 ("Criminal Finances Act") that took effect from 30 September 2017.

J.W. Turner Ltd will not engage in or be associated with any form of tax evasion anywhere in the world, nor to facilitate any such activities.

In connection with this policy, J.W. Turner Ltd has appointed a Compliance Officer to act as a point of contact. J.W. Turner Ltd current Compliance Officer is Antony J Turner Managing Director.

2.0 Scope and purpose

2.1 Overview

The Criminal Finances Act referred to in Section 1 introduced the Corporate Criminal Offence of failing to prevent the facilitation of tax evasion by another person. For there to be such an offence, each of the following three stages would need to be present:

- 1) There is criminal tax evasion by another party;
- 2) There is the criminal facilitation of that evasion by an associated person i.e. a person acting for or on behalf of J.W. Turner Ltd:-
- 3) J.W. Turner Ltd failed to prevent that facilitation.

In the event that these circumstances apply, J.W. Turner Ltd could be liable to a criminal conviction, a potentially unlimited fine and the attendant negative publicity. The only defense that it then has is that it had in place at the time a system of reasonable prevention procedures.

There does not need to be a conviction for either stage 1 or stage 2 for stage 3 to be present.

The definition of associated person is very widely drawn, including individual or entity who could be construed as acting for or on behalf of J.W. Turner Ltd e.g. its employees, agents and contractors, wherever they are located.

As an example, the following activities could constitute the criminal facilitation of tax evasion:

- a) An employee agrees to make payments into a bank account in a different name or location to that of the recipient in the knowledge that the intention of the recipient is not to declare receipt of the funds.

- b) An employee agrees to accept an invoice that includes an inaccurate description of the goods or services to be provided in the knowledge that the mis-description is a mechanism through which the supplier intends to evade tax.
- c) An employee agrees to pay a customer refund to an alternative account in the knowledge that the customer intends to evade the associated tax liabilities.

The introduction of, and monitoring of, compliance with this policy is an important aspect of the reasonable procedures that are required. Its purpose is to:

- set out J.W. Turner Ltd responsibilities, and of those working for or on behalf of the J.W. Turner Ltd, in observing and upholding its position in relation to not facilitating tax evasion; and
- provide information and guidance to those working for or on behalf of J.W. Turner Ltd on how to recognize and deal with potential tax evasion issues.

This Policy sets out the minimum standards and requirements which the Group expects to be adhered to and J.W. Turner Ltd reserves the right to amend it at any time. Where the local laws or customs in any country in which J.W. Turner Ltd is carrying out business provide that a higher standard of conduct is required then that higher standard must be followed and anyone acting for or on behalf of J.W. Turner Ltd must do so at all times in accordance with all applicable written local laws.
